

Advising Day
October 18, 2022
Psychology Area Workshops

Click on the workshop title to register and receive zoom link

Psychology, Sociology, or Social Work: Which Path Is Best for Me?

11:00 AM – 12:00 PM

Psychology, Sociology and Social Work are related fields with human-focused studies and research; however, the course and career pathways are quite different. Come learn about the difference between these popular majors so that you can make an informed decision when transferring to a 4-year institution.

Exploring Research Opportunities Through Citizen Science

12:00 – 1:00 PM

Are you interested in contributing to the scientific process to solve real-world problems? Are you considering a career in research, but aren't sure what the options are? If so, this session is for you! In it, you will learn about opportunities available through research projects that need the help of citizen scientists like you.